Long Experience Necessary.

"I therefore feel and believe that this same "Postal spirit", properly directed, can be maintained to its highest efficiency for the benefit of the Government if the Postal Telegraph organization be kept intact as far as possible. The telegraph is a difficult and intricate business, the successful handling of which requires years of experience as well as the knowledge of thousands of terminals, wires and cables, and the best results can only be secured for the Government by retaining the men who possess that knowledge. Such an oganization once broken up would be impossible of restoration for many years to come. I say that without regard to myself at all. I am perfectly willing to work as hereto.

ECONOMIES ARE MOOTED

Experienced Operating Man Is Sought to Act as Aid to Postmaster-General.

Special Despatch to Tan Str.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 .- Save for th ficial order there was nothing to indirate to-day that the United States Government was finally in possession of telegraph and telephone lines of the country and that users of their facilities were doing business with the Government. Operation went on as usua under the operating heads of the com-the Capital Issues Committee of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, but was brought before the national committee here on appeal by Mayor Hanson and other Seattle officials, and President Wilson's interest was enlisted.

The municipality is not care the first of the telegraph and telegraph a siceration to any inordinately large sai-ary payments with a view to a general trimming down if conditions warrant such a course after careful investigation.

May Follow McAdoo's Policy. May Follow McAdoo's Policy.

It is possible that the same procedure will be followed with the wire companies that was adopted by Director-General McAdoo for the railroad lines. Mr. McAdoo separated railroad operations from corporate interests and drew a clear line of demarcation, placing certain of the railroad presidents at the heads of operations of their roads and placing them outside the pale. This left it optional with the corporations to keep their presidents and pay their salaries. Many of the railroad officers had the choice given to them of continuing as heads of their corporate interests or taking charge of operations of their roads.

It is believed by officials here that there are many officers of the wire lines drawing salaries that are exceptionally large considered from an operating standpoint and it is likely that economies will be undertaken in this direction.

Seeking Experienced Man.

The telegraph and telephone commit-tee, headed by the Poetmaster-General. is studying the men at the forefront of operations in the wire companies to se-lect a man of wide experience in practi-cal operation of both telephones and telegraphs to aid the committee. It is likely that the man named will be made an assistant to David J. Lewis, who, with the Postmaster-General, will be charge of operations.

It is understood the committee is looking for a man of exceptional practical qualifications who is a believer in Government ownership and who can give his full allegiance to the Government. The appointee will have to sever his connections with any of the companies taken
